bnim PRINCIPAL

Carey Nagle is a Principal at BNIM and a proven leader in the realm of high-performance design excellence. He is a holistic practitioner with a broad range of notable project experience consisting of museums and cultural facilities, higher education projects, office buildings, adaptive reuse and modernist preservation.

Carey is currently leading the design of the adaptive reuse of the Charity Hospital in New Orleans, LA. He has also held an integral role on a number of innovative projects for the University of Iowa including the University of Iowa Stanley Museum of Art, the Seamans Center for the Engineering Arts and Sciences, the Psychological and Brains Sciences Building, and the College of Nursing Building Renovation. His projects have been recognized with multiple national awards from the American Institute of Architects (AIA), including the 2016 AIA Honor Award for the renovation of the American Enterprise Group National Headquarters and the 2014 COTE Top Ten + Green Building Award for the Iowa Utilities Board and Office of Consumer Advocate.

Carey received his Bachelor of Architecture from Iowa State University. He has also served on the Iowa State University Department of Architecture's Architectural Advisory Committee and The City of Des Moines' Urban Design Review Board. In 2016, Carey received the AIA National Young Architect Award.
