Craig Scranton AIA NCARB LEED AP

bnim PRINCIPAL

Craig Scranton is a Principal at BNIM who has led some of the firm's most complex projects. He is adept at working with large design and management teams, and continuously leads teams to create projects that elevate design beyond what clients and building users think is possible. His previous work laid the foundation in assisting the architectural and construction industries in understanding how sustainable design can impact the environment and business costs throughout the life of a building.

Craig directs BNIM's Development practice area. His project experience includes working with developers, not-for-profits, and universities. He remains heavily involved with development of the Kansas City urban core through the Urban Land Institute (ULI) Kansas City chapter. Craig's most recent projects include leading the redevelopment of the historic Lyric Theatre building in Downtown Kansas City into the Kirk Family YMCA and the design of the new Kansas City International (KCI) Airport Parking Garage.

Outside of work, Craig is an active member of his community. He recently served as a Scout Master with Boy Scout Troop 24 in Kansas City, is on the Properties Committee with the Boy Scouts Heart of America Council, and serves as a mentor for a First Robotics Competition high school team.
