Jamie Intervalo AIA LEED AP BD+C

bnim PACIFIC STUDIO DIRECTOR

Jamie Intervalo brings over 15 years of experience in the San Diego area to her role as Pacific Studio Director at BNIM. Jamie's portfolio encompasses a variety of project types including specialization in design for higher education, commercial, workplace, and multi-family residential clients. As an experienced project manager and architect, she is focused on implementing an integrated design approach to ensure design concepts are supported in every space and detail. Jamie believes effective project leadership stems from thoughtful collaboration based on mutual respect and trust, a philosophy with which she successfully leads project teams.

Jamie is a mentor, advocate, and champion for future emerging professionals in the architecture, engineering, and construction industry. She utilizes her work with the AIA to elevate and support a culture of equity within the profession, and recently served as Director of Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Justice on the AIA San Diego Board of Directors. Currently, Jamie is on the AIA California Board of Directors and will serve as 2023 Vice President for the AIA San Diego chapter.
